groups "100" and "200". When the group is 100, I'd like to show "low" in green and when group is 200, "high" in green. If there are two entries with identical values, I'd like them to be combined into one block. My solution is currently doing that by an ugly approach using a for-loop. But I would like to do that more elegantly with a lapply or something like that.
